

JOB DESCRIPTION
Job Title	Mechanical Engineer x 2
Company	Hansworth Limited
Location	London, UK
Assignment Type	Residential 5/2
Department	N/A
Reports to	(Operations Manager)

Main Job Function:

- Prepare and present technical tendering documents for new projects to customers including commercial information wherever necessary.
- Interpret designs, including P&ID's, perform all engineering calculations, examine specifications, expedite and process engineering changes.
- Check and control contract drawings for accuracy of dimension and detail, and manage their subsequent delivery/approval with customers.
- Ensure effective liaison within the Engineering group to build and maintain consistently high engineering standards.
- Carry out other duties that may be required to meet the developing needs of our team and the business.

Candidate Specifications:

- Degree in Mechanical Engineering or equivalent and have considerable practical experience in power station engineering.
- An awareness of the commercial aspect of a power generation business is also desirable.
- Experience of large combustion rotating plant, familiar with quality assurance, planning, finance, design and commissioning as applied to the projects.
- Experience of front-end development engineering in the Power Generation industry; Ability to demonstrate a track of record in engineering design to projects leading to successful procurement, construction and commissioning.
- Experience of recruiting and building a team/department, fit for purpose with continued development of staff training.
- A good team player with an imaginative, proactive approach with strong interpersonal skills will be required.
- Willing to travel both in the country and abroad and must be eligible to live & work in the UK.